Start Hardtop Program In 1965

Master Plan Drawn Up For Paving of Main County Roads

A "master paving plan" that in years to come would see the paving of five main east-west roads across the County of Vulcan was adopted by County Council at its regular September meeting last week.

The plan was approved following considerable discussion between members of the Municipal Committee; N. H. Bradley, former district highways engineer whose services as a consulting engineer are now utilized by the County of Vulcan; and H. C. Duguid, district highways engineer and his assistant, from Calgary.

In its present form the paving plan visualizes concentration in the next few years on the paving of the main district arteries running east from Highway 23, as residents of the eastern part of the county are now farthest from a paved highway. Although circumstances may dictate a change in the present plan, with work on the main roads west from Highway 23 being undertaken earlier than is presently planned, work in the next three years at least will be concentrated on paving part of two district highways leading east: the Lomond road from its intersection with Highway 23 near Vulcan, and the Milo road from the junction of Highways 23 and 24.

In 1965, the Lomond road (which is to be completely rebuilt) will receive a six-inch base course for the first six miles from Highway 23 and the Milo road (which will be repaired and brought up to a high standard) will get the six-inch base course on the first five miles east from the Highway junction. In 1966, an additional five miles on each of these two roads will get the asphalt-bound base course and then, in 1967, the 10 miles of Milo road and 11 miles of Lomond road will receive the asphalt surfacing and seal coat.

Following the recommendations of the engineers, part of the old asphalt runways at the Vulcan Airport will be broken up and will provide excellent material for the base course in the paving program. Laying of the base course will be done by the county's own crews and equipment, but laying of the asphalt surfacing of the 21 miles will be done by a company experienced in this work, on a contract basis.

The paving plan has been submitted to the Department of Highways in Edmonton and application has been made to the department for the special paving grant, which will pay about 75 per cent of the costs on about half the entire paving program. Normal road construction and maintenance grants can also be used, in part, for paving costs, and the entire $425,000 cost of the initial three-year program will be met out of current tax revenues and government grants.

No firm program has been planned beyond the immediate three-year period. In 1968 the hard-surfacing of the Lomond and Milo roads may be extended further eastwards or it may be decided to start on the three other east-west roads included in the master plan.

The ultimate objectives of the paving program, as presently included in the master plan, are as follows:

District Highway 233-E
3 miles West from S.W. corner of Section 28-20-25-4 and 6 miles East from S.E. corner Section 29-20-24, and thence to Arrowwood.

District Highway 233-A
17 miles East from junction between 23 and 24 to Milo.

District Highway 232-W
16 miles East from Highway 23 at Vulcan to Lomond Road.

District Highway 232-H
3 miles South from S.E. corner of Section 1-17-22-4 (Lomond Road).

District Highway 232-V
11 miles East from S.E. 24-16-22

to Lomond.

District Highway 232-W
14 miles West from Vulcan to the West Boundary of the County. (Connemara Road)

District Highway 232-U
12 miles West from Highway 23 to the County's West Boundary. (Parkland Road)

District Highway 232-S
7 miles West from Highway 23 and a number of miles (to be determined at a later date) East from Carmangay.

The committee hopes that District Highway 232-U, 14 miles East from Highway 23 to the Little Bow Park, will be done by the Department of Highways some time in the future. If this cannot be arranged, this road would also be brought into the County program.

Kinsmen Promise Support

At the second meeting of the fall season the Kinsmen Club of Vulcan passed a motion which throws their full support behind the Recreation Centre project to the tune of $1,000 a year for the next three years.

This announcement follows on the heels of the earlier donation by the Vulcan Lions Club of $1,000 to the campaign to pay for the dismantled Meadowlark curling rink which is on the Centre site at Vulcan.

This will be a busy year for the comparatively new club. One trap shoot has already been held and more are being planned and proceeds from this Saturday night's Pheasant Derby will be earmarked for this cause.

Tickets on the Kinsmen club's Trip to Hawaii are still being circulated and the draw for this luxurious holiday for two will be made at the Calgary Highlanders' Christmas dance in December.

Designs Wanted For Proposed County Crest

Discussed at the last county council meeting was the desirability of having an official crest for the County of Vulcan No. 2 and it was decided to invite residents or any other interested persons to submit designs for such a crest.

The actual drawing of the crest need not be professional work; the design is what is basically wanted and any interested persons with ideas as to how the crest should be designed are asked to submit sketches to the county secretary-treasurer.

A cash prize of $50 will be awarded for a crest design that proves acceptable.

DRINKING & DRIVING

According to the Alberta Safety Council half of the 20 fatal accidents reported by the RCMP during July bore the notation "H. B. D." which stands for "Had been drinking." In nine of the accidents, accounting for 12 deaths, a driver had been drinking. The tenth was a pedestrian who had also been drinking.

Anglican Servers Guild Meets

The Anglican Servers Guild met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Dumka on Thursday, Oct. 1, at 7:30 p.m. They discussed the responsibilities of serving at the Holy Communion service with the Rev. Victor Cowell. Refreshments were served by their hosts.

Their next meeting will be at the church, where a demonstration of the Holy Communion vessels and linens will be given and refreshments will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. W. Babuk.

Arrowwood In Second Spot

Cluny Gymkhana Club Dominates Riding Show

At the annual Show of Champions of the Southern Alberta Council of Riding Clubs and Associations, the Cluny Gymkhana Club took top honours with a total of 111 points, with the Arrowwood Gymkhana Club in second place with 74 points.

Thirteen member clubs participated in this annual event, with each club entering its three top horses in each event. Attendance was very good and about 100 horses and their riders were present.

Results were as follows with first, second and third listed in each event respectively:

PeeWee Barrel Race—Ann Watson, Cluny; Ann Marie Yule, Cluny; Stanley Yule, Cluny.

Intermediate Barrel Race—John Boake, Acme; Gordon Bertschy, Arrowwood; Pat Reilly, Cluny.

PeeWee Keyhole Race—Stanley Yule, Cluny; Norman Ward, Cluny; Maggie O'Donnell, Irricana.

Senior Pole Bending Race—Bruce Mullen, Cluny; Erwin Yule, Cluny; Mervin Anderson, Lake McGregor.

PeeWee Stake Race—Stanley Yule, Cluny; Doris Richardson, Bowmount; Bonnie Boehlke, Symons Valley. Its almost got to the point where we're afraid to say that harvesting is again under way, because for the past month whenever the combines would start up, down would come the rain.

However, the past few days have been rain-free and although there has been very little wind to help dry out the soaked swaths the temperature on Monday reached 68 above and on Tuesday 75 above.

Where the last rainfall was fairly light, combines were in action on Tuesday; where conditions were a bit damper farmers were hopeful that combining could start on Wednesday. Another week or ten days of good weather would see the long-drawn-out harvest pretty well cleaned up.

Intermediate Pole Bending Race—Max Christie, Arrowwood; Frank McInenly, Arrowwood; Wendy McMorris, Lake McGregor.

Mens Barrel Race—Bruce Mullen, Cluny; Lorne Mullen, Cluny; Fritz Schwartzberger, Irricana.

PeeWee Pole Bending Race—Melody Todhunter, Irricana; Maggie O'Donnell, Irricana; Ann Watson, Cluny.

Intermediate Keyhole Race—Gordon Bertschy, Arrowwood; Danny Brassard, Bowmount; Sharon Richardson, Bowmount.

Senior Stake Race—Don Copithorne, Springbank Mens; Lorne Mullen, Cluny; Larry Bews, Bowmount.

Intermediate Stake Race—Frank McInenly, Arrowwood; Wendy McMorris, Lake McGregor; Pat Reilly, Cluny.

Open Flag Picking Race—Jim Sammons, Cluny; Don Copithorne, Springbank Mens; Bob Bertschy, Arrowwood.

Early Years In Vulcan Recalled By Former Vulcan Youth

Recognize anyone in this photo? It's going back a few years — 1935 to be exact — but most residents of that vintage will recall the father of this family as Earl Robson, a farm boy who grew up in this district and whose home for the past 18 years has been in Aralia.

Earl Robson is a cousin of Rusty Robson, Mrs. R. J. Willard, the Denoons of Nanton and a nephew of Mrs. E. G. McPherson. Earl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robson lived at one time on a farm four miles east and two miles north of Vulcan, the present J. Crick farm. Mr. Robson owned land there and also ran a blacksmith shop where Mel's Purity 99 Station now stands and in 1935 a move was made to the United States. A brother Lawrence and a sister Joyce, made up the family.

On a relative-visiting tour from their holiday base in the States the Robsons' station wagon brought them into these parts last week for an all too brief hedge-hopping visit to kinfolk and friends.

A scene of short employment years ago, Earl brought his United States wife and four children Randall, Pamela, Susan and Robin, shown above, into the Advocate. His strongest memory was that he used to handset a lot of type but "The knack of reading print upside down and backwards is still a help surveying other peoples' desks", he said with a grin.

Mr. Robson is with a subsidiary company in the oil network of Standard of New Jersey and while he didn't complain about our early winter which was present at the time, the purchase of ear muffs for the trip to Banff and through the mountains suggests the family was not convinced this is still autumn.

The years have made Mr. Robson a bit of a stranger to his home town. Ron Beuhler who met him at the office couldn't put a name to the face the first time around but this former student who got to town by "hooting it across country" grew to be an outstanding local athlete. Cliff McAskie claims he was a natural at baseball, hockey and other sports and his ability on skates earned him a four year scholarship at a university along the west coast of the States.

Mr. Robson remembers the tornado of 1927 quite vividly and could still trace its bouncing course through various farms and into town. A photo of the early Vulcan Band brought back names like Lebeau, Simington, Washburn, D. D. McQueen and others.

Moorehouse Featured In B.C. Weekly

Walter Steiner must now be in his 70's and is one of the pioneer generation who remembers miles and miles of southern Alberta prairie lacking fences, farm and full of the privations and happiness that went with the early days.

His inclusion here in what may be the latest word on the doings of that briefly famous wagon man, Slim Moorehouse, is notable in that it was Walter Steiner's father who shipped into Vulcan in 1923 during one of the big grain hauls in the years when the memorable multi-horse teams and wagon hauls were the vogue.

Apparently Slim Moorehouse is pretty well retired now out at Glenden, B.C. and his string of horses is well down. Mr. Steiner is one of those who, with his older brother Charlie, never officially retires but, comes along from his home in Calgary just in time to be put to work by his son Bill, now running the farm.

In 1902 Walter Steiner's father bought land north of Vulcan and in June of 1904 at the age of 14 Walter helped trail 80 head of horses from the home in Nevada up into Canada. Another outfit with whom they travelled left them at Cardston and after leaving the Little Bow on the Blackfoot trail Mr. Steiner recalls, "We never saw another house till the George Todd place." This trip was not completed until August 28, and ended along the correction line where nephew Carl Steiner now farms. The section number was known but in those times there was very little identification of where ownership of land began or ended.

Mr. Steiner remembers the Batemans were here then and that winter Carl's father, Charlie and mother arrived.

In 1917 Walter moved to the reserve lease northeast several miles where his son Bill now farms and the balance of his adult years were spent in this area.

It was the fall of 1923 when Slim Moorehouse propositioned Mr. Steiner into the grain hauling deal. He offered to ship it free of charge as it was the only wheat left out in the area and the need for HARVEST AT SUNSET—Silhouetted against the setting sun, a combine is stopped briefly while the operator is busy with a grease gun. For the first time in a month, warm, sunny weather prevails this week with a promise that it may hold long enough to allow Alberta's oft-delayed harvest to be completed.

CARMANGAY

Congratulations are being received by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Greene on the birth of a son Kent Darren, September 23 in Little Bow Hospital.

Ray Teskey arrived home during the week from Ontario where he spent the summer.

Birthday Club members met on Monday evening to honor Mrs. Gretta Soderquist on her birthday.

The games of chance and skill were conducted by Mrs. Anne Blimkie and winners were Mabel Hillard, Audrey Baldwin and Maude Hyslip. There will be no birthday party in October, however the November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Baldwin.

C.W.L. MEETING

The first meeting of the C.W.L. for the fall season was held at the home of Mrs. Earl Kaiser, Thursday evening, Oct. 1. Father Marien opened the meeting with the League Prayer.

President, Mrs. Bob Hubka thanked the ladies and all who assisted with the lawn supper. She expressed her appreciation to Father Marien for arranging the Summer Catechism Class for the children and said she was very grateful to the ladies for planning the First Communion breakfast.

Minutes of the C.W.L. Convention were passed around among the members for reading. Open discussion took place as to programs for future meetings. It is hoped that Adult Instruction Classes can be worked in during the winter months. Spiritual Convenor read instructions on the First Commandment of the Church Educational and Press and Publicity convenors read excerpts from an article in the Reader's Digest on New Warmth Between Protestants and Catholics.

The ladies were very impressed with Father Marien's short discourse. As Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Hubka celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on October 3, Father Marien made a presentation from the C.W.L. members and himself to Mrs. Rudy Hubka. The meeting closed with Father's blessing.

A very lovely lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Rudy Hubka won the raffle.

MOTHER'S ASSOCIATION

Mother's Guide Meeting was held in the village office Monday, Sept. 28. Following the reading of the minutes and the financial report, Captain Beulah Hubka thanked her Camp Committee for solving transportation problems and their assistance in setting up the summer camp. Girl Guides were present from Claresholm, Coaldale, Champion and Carmangay and it was "the best camp yet".

Mrs. Lorraine Teskey turned in her Brownie uniform and equipment as she found it impossible to continue as Brown Owl. Rather than allowing the Brownie Pack to fade away Mrs. Rosella Hubka with the help of Chris, decided to carry on as Brownie Leader. This was indeed wonderful news for the anxious Brownies and local association.

Election of officers resulted in the following being elected: President, Mrs. Alice Knight; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Helen Hubka and badge secretary, Mrs. Betty Kananen.

A vote of thanks was given to the retiring president, Mrs. Julie Ewing, for her excellent work with the association.

Bill-paying got you on the run?

Do you traipse all over town paying bills in person? If you do, you're paying extra ... in time, shoe leather, bus fare or gasoline and tires.

And if you pay bills out of your savings account, you reduce your balance. That can cost you something in interest.

But, if you pay your bills through a Current Account at your Treasury Branch, the cost is much less. Your Treasury Branch gives you a monthly statement showing all amounts deposited and withdrawn, and returns your cancelled vouchers. Each one, clearly endorsed with the date on which it was paid, constitutes a receipt ... a cast-iron proof of payment.

Open a Current Account at your Treasury Branch, and cut the cost of paying bills.

Hot on the heels of last year's success, Comet presents "A New Young Look of Luxury".

'65 COMET

Comet sales doubled last year. We loved it. Just as much as people obviously loved Comet.

Comet Caliente 4-door sedan

Comet Caliente convertible

Now, here's the '65 Comet, young, spirited, handsome as all get out and luxurious to boot.

Comet Caliente 2-door hardtop

Not too big a car at not too big a price. But what a lot of car. '65 Comet.

A new young look of luxury takes shape in the lower, wider, forward-reaching lines of '65 Comet. Inside this great new shape, rich colours, textures and patterns (vinyls, fabrics, stripes, plaids) have never been more beautiful. Are touches like walnut-toned trim and deep-pile carpeting your style? The choice is yours. You'll take to the comfort of Comet's suspension the way it takes to the road. More good news:

extended power range from the 170 "6" to the spirited 289 V-8's, including the big new 200 "6" with 3-speed automatic transmission. There's a special brand of excitement in each series... 202, 404, Caliente and the high-performance Cyclone.

One other thing you'll want to know. How much? The answer is, how little! Drive Comet for '65, for fun with a touch of luxury to it.

Paving Program Is Sound

The long-term program for paving of main east-west roads in the county, announced this week by the county's municipal committee, will likely be greeted with approval by the large majority of ratepayers. There will be no overnight transformation of dusty gravel roads into smooth, hard-topped highways, but on the other hand the cost of the paving program will be met from current revenue and road grants, plus the special government paving grant, without any increase in taxes to cover the cost of a debenture issue for this purpose.

We think this pay-as-you-go policy is a sound one for this type of public works. The 21 miles of paving planned to be fully completed in the next three years will cost about $425,000 and will be fully paid for at the end of that time out of current tax receipts and government grants.

If even seven or eight miles can be surfaced in this manner each year, it will not be too long before the main east-west roads in the county are paved, connecting up each district with the surfaced north-south artery formed by Highways 23 and 24.

Why Your Car Premiums Will Sting

Here are the cold hard facts about next year's higher premiums for car insurance. These figures, says The Financial Post, are released in the industry's annual Green Book of auto insurance premiums and claims experience. Statistics — for all of Canada except Saskatchewan which still has a government-operated compulsory scheme — are collated for the superintendent of insurance by the Canadian Underwriters Association.

Average increases (including all classifications except commercial and farm vehicles) indicated by statistics: Prince Edward Island faces the biggest average jump — 22%. Average cost of liability claims in P.E.I. went up 21.6% to $399. British Columbia is next in line with an indicated boost of 14%. Quebec drivers face an average increase of 10%. Ontario suffer an 8% hike. New Brunswick's rates may jump 6% on the average. Manitoba's indicated increase is 5%. Alberta gets off easily with an indicated average increase of only 3%. Nova Scotia figures call for an increase of 2%. Newfoundland gets off the easiest — rates could go down by as much as 11% on the average. Average increase indicated for the whole of Canada is 8%.

The competition was apparently urgent. It took one day to load the less than 1,000 bushels of No. 1 wheat into the five grain tanks and three three-deck wagons, known to old-timers as "Cracker boxes" — and two days to get to Vulcan, a distance of about 20 miles. Either 28 or 32 head of horses were used in this haul and it was a trip loaded with problems of broken harness, accidents and slow going caused by wagons being mired in deepened mud holes. Outriders for the trip were Jim Mooney, Walter Ward (brother of Milt Ward of Arrowwood) and Slim McDonald.

Mr. Steiner describes 1963 as a year as formidable as any in the '30's in so far as the hay crop prospects were concerned. 1910 stands out as one of the worst years in his experience as there was no moisture 'till late July when rains did bring on some greenfeed but little else.

Mr. Steiner has a daughter

Marge, now Mrs. G. Malmberg of the Carlsland district and he and Charlie keep up acquaintances in this area with frequent visits and can be seen each year at the Lake McGregor Race Meet, the local 4-H Calf Show and Sale and two years ago Charlie took a spin around his home place after pheasants on opening day. This week he went to the hospital suffering minor burns from a scuffle with a grain loader on the farm.

The copy of the Salmon Arm Observer containing the write-up on Slim Moorehouse came into Mr. Steiner's hands and it is copied below:

(By Barney McKinley)

The men that made the West are still with us.

Some of the hardest of them anyway.

They're getting pretty weather beaten after a lifetime of driving spikes and blasting out mines, hauling grain and fighting horses and heartache, wind, winters, high water and hot fires.

But you'll notice they still stand straight and talk straight the way they learned to do in the days when man power and four-legged horse power was building the West in the early days of this century.

Good sample of the breed is Slim Moorehouse of Gleneden, a 74-year-old veteran of the stagecoach, rodeo, grain-hauling, mining history of the Western United States and Canada, who can still sit a horse and crack a whip in a style that is fast vanishing.

Longest String
In his time, the still-vigorous Moorehouse, who still keeps a stable of riding horses on his Gleneden property, went through enough action to bust up a couple of strong men, but when they write the history of the new West he is going to be recorded as the man who drove the longest string of horses in the world.

He set the record with an 18-team hitch of matched black Percherons pulling 10 grain wagons, a sight the Alberta wheat country will long hold in hallowed memory.

The 36 Percherons with Moorehouse at the reins were the big show at the Calgary Stampede parade of 1925 and even that gaudy spectacle hasn't seen the like since.

Well, that was the final chapter in the Moorehouse big team chronicle and by that time the West was beginning to get mechanized so it was a good place and occasion to make a little horse skinning history.

But the man and the moment had been a long time in the development.

The story begins in Idaho, which Moorehouse still refers to as I-dee-ho, where he learned to handle horses and mules in a day "when there weren't any roads" and the shot whip was invented by men who had to keep the wagons rolling — roads or ruts.

Survives Holdup

From Idaho he moved to Oregon and a job driving stagecoaches over mountain trails and added to his experience by surviving a $72,000 hold-up that sent his plunging team over an embankment and gave him an opportunity to prove his skill by arriving in a creek bed with the coach still on its wheels.

In those days, for a man like Moorehouse, it was a natural evolution to move on to the rodeo trail when the railroads put the stagecoach on the sidelines and for years he travelled wherever the action was the briskest. It's a testimonial to his abilities that he was still in prime shape when he settled down on a site on the Buffalo Hills, about 20 miles from Vulcan, Alta., in the days when Canadian wheat was just starting to boom.

He arrived just at the beginning of the big grain years and the problem of getting wheat in a hurry to the elevators at Vulcan was a natural challenge to a man who had worked horses all his life.

The bigger the team, the more wagons could be hauled. And the more wagons the more wheat in one trip. Seemed a matter of simple deduction.

So it wasn't long before the lean and agile Slim was causing eyes to pop with a 14-team outfit, all hitched tandem. He was hauling the biggest loads on the prairie and it didn't look like anyone else could match him.

Rival Appears

As it happened one man made a good try at topping the Moorehouse performance and out of the rivalry that ensued developed Slim's world record team.

He first became aware he was in a contest one fine autumn morning of 1923 when he was driving his outfit down from the Buffalo Hills. He could see a big stretch of the flat grainlands below and there on his right, crawling across the plain, was the longest horse team he'd ever squinted at.

When he finished counting he had to concede the man below had hitched up 16 horses, two more than his line-up swinging in behind the plainsman on the road to Vulcan.

Wasn't Upset, But . . .
Though he is inclined now to claim he wasn't upset by the sight of a team bigger than his own, there's no doubt the Moorehouse of that day wasn't pleased at the sight.

But characteristically, he didn't say much at the elevators where there were some grins over the feat of the rival driver — a man from over Gleichen way. Before leaving town, though, he couldn't resist informing the Gleichen man that the Moorehouse team was just nicely started.

From there on the number started jumping. Eighteen horses, then 20, with the lead switching back and forth every day or so. Only an early snow put a temporary end to the competition.

Carload of Grain
When the snow cleared Moorehouse threshed his own crop. Then one morning he decided to settle the big team question for food.

He phoned a neighboring farmer and announced he was ready to haul "a carload of grain." Then he went out into the fields and rounded up every piece of horseflesh on his place. Added 10 mules to that. Borrowed three more teams from a neighbor and topped the deal off with a brace of 1900-pound outlaws owned by the man whose wheat he was hauling.

It added up to 32 head — the longest and toughest team maybe in the history of man.

To get the assortment of horses and mules into reasonable order he had to borrow and improvise harness and finally hitch them up to the wagon by means of two steel cables, an invention of his own.

Then he loaded up the string of wagons with what, actually was a small carload of wheat, showed the butt of his shot whip into a hip pocket and set out for Vulcan, whistling happily.

In town the Gleichen man took one look, shrunk into the collar of his mackinaw and admitted defeat.

Star of Stampede

The next summer — 1924 — Moorehouse and his team were invited to star at the Calgary Stampede and parade. He added the

On its way across the tracks, leading into Vulcan is one of the long wagon trains of the early 20's, this one with Slim Moorehouse at the reins. Three outriders helped in the haul that saw about

Not Yet Satisfied

Even so, he wasn't quite satisfied and soon as the '24 Stampede was over he started rounding up those Percherons with the idea of getting together a really big team.

Aided by the Canadian Percheron Association, he scoured the country from Fish Creek to Gleichen and came up with the 36 black Percherons, none of them under 1600 pounds and some of them over 1800.

And with the biggest and blackest collection of genuine horsepower on record, he rolled into Calgary hauling 10 grain wagons and a load of publicity for the wheatmen, the city and himself.

Just to add to his chores he tossed out an estimated 6000 small string of teams and wagons through city streets, to his list of accomplishments and had no trouble outshining world champion bronco buster Pete Knight and famous Indian chief, Buffalo Child Long Lance, who were also in the parade.

A fair job of building the West just in itself.

Of course the story's been told before — it would be pretty hard for viewers to forget.

Naturally, the accounts speculate on what happened to Moorehouse when the big team was finally broken up and it has even been reported he wound up driving a milk wagon — hitched to one horse.

Well this time the story can be brought up to date. The man who once drove the world's biggest team is settled down in the Gleneden valley.

His remuda is down to four horses, but there doesn't seem any doubt if the occasion arose he could still handle 36.

Make it 38.

Recent Showers Honor Dawna Hilz Highlanders And Cadets Start Training Parades

Services Held For Pioneer Of Lomond District

Miss Dawna Haga was honored at a surprise bridal shower held at the home of Miss Lorraine Roebuck on Sept. 19. Fourteen young friends presented gifts to the bride-elect, who was assisted in the opening by Miss Marilynne Greene, Miss Lynda Dann and Mrs. Jack Leslie. Corsages were presented to the honored guest and her assistants.

After the gifts were opened Dawna very capably thanked her friends. A tasty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Lynn Drummond, Miss Charlene Webb and Miss Rae Uily.

Fifty friends and relatives from Kirkcaldy, Vulcan and Champion districts attended a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Dawna Haga in the Kirkcaldy Hall on Sept. 25. The hall was colorfully decorated in an autumn theme with baskets of flowers adding to their beauty. The bride-elect was assisted at the bridal table by her mother, Mrs. Ivan Haga, the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. Henry Hilz, and her sister Mrs. Jack Leslie.

In a humorous skit performed by the hostesses, Dawna's life was portrayed in song and action. Many beautiful gifts were then presented to the honored guest who in turn very charmingly thanked her friends and welcomed them to her home in Champion district.

Lunch was served by the hostesses.

Good Response To Lions Club Birthday Calendar At Vulcan Hospital

The birthday calendar, a project sponsored by the local Lions Club, is meeting with good public reception and application coupons are now being received from families wishing to buy one. This purchase also includes listing of birth dates, anniversaries, etc. Organizations may also be included in this calendar giving meeting dates which could be of help in avoiding duplication of events.

Merchants are also co-operating well with good advertising support and all are featuring specials, either in goods or services to patrons during the week their birthday appears on the calendar.

There is no limit to the number of cards which may be purchased and it is not necessary that birth dates be included on the calendar. A photo of the Vulcan Memorial Swimming Pool will appear on the calendar, not the air photo of the town which was previously mentioned.

Canada's net international indebtedness totalled $19.5 billion at the beginning of 1964; this balance has grown nearly as much in the last seven years as the total accumulated balance from 1867 to 1956.

The following births were recorded at the Vulcan Municipal Hospital during the month of September:

Sept. 1, to Mr. and Mrs. Ken Houlton, Vulcan, a daughter.

Sept. 2, to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Allen, Vulcan, a son.

Sept. 17, to Mr. and Mrs. William Chepil, Vulcan, a daughter.

Sept. 19, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nolte, Ensign, a daughter.

Sept. 26, to Mr. and Mrs. Tino Pasoli, Champion, a daughter.

Cement Work Requires Care, Experience

The proper placing and curing of concrete is just as important for a high quality product as mixing the correct proportions of the ingredients.

Here are some tips on these aspects of concrete construction from Dennis Darby, Assistant Engineer with Alberta's Extension Service. He says tamping the concrete well, especially along the edges of the forms, is very important. A mechanical vibrator is recommended for this job. Care should also be taken not to drop the concrete more than about eight feet. Longer distances will cause segregation of the coarse aggregates to occur. To prevent segregation, which can also occur if the mix is sloppy, the concrete should be run down a chute or tube.

Mr. Darby points out that concrete should not be finished until after the surface has become slightly stiff or the water sheen has disappeared. Troweling wet concrete brings the water and fine material to the surface. This makes it weak due to water dilution and is a frequent cause of dusty floors and hair cracks in the surface. Sprinkling the surface of the concrete with cement or a cement-sand mixture can also cause these problems.

Concrete should be kept moist for at least five days after it has been placed. When it has been moist-cured for seven days it will be 50 percent stronger than concrete which has been left exposed. It can gain 100 percent in strength if it is kept wet for one month. The first week, however, is the most crucial.

According to Mr. Darby, moist curing greatly improves the watertightness and resistance to wear of concrete. Without damp curing, the surface will dry out before complete hydration has taken place. This is another cause of cracked and dusty floors.

Any method of keeping the surface wet can be employed during the curing period. It may be done with wet sacks, rags or straw. Flooding the surface is an excellent method of curing, says Mr. Darby. Commercial sealing compounds are available which can be sprayed on the surface to seal in the moisture. However, tarpaulins and polyethylene covers work just about as well.

Protecting newly poured concrete from frost is extremely important. One cycle of freeze-thaw action could drastically reduce the strength of the concrete. When concrete is placed during cold weather it should be kept 50 degrees F. for at least five days.

Mr. Darby says some people have the erroneous impression that calcium chloride can be added to the mix to prevent it from freezing. The calcium chloride only reduces the time that protection against frost is needed by making the concrete set faster. It does not give any frost protection whatsoever. Anyone using calcium chloride should not add more than 1 1/2 pounds per sack of cement. High Early Strength Cement will achieve the same purpose. Calcium Chloride must never be used with Sulphate Resistant Cement.

Advertising helps to reduce consumer demand for scarce commodities by diverting public demand to other more readily available commodities.

Friends of J. Stein will be sorry to learn of his hospitalization where he is recuperating from a severe cold. Reg and Rose visited with him Saturday night.

The national economy for efficient operation needs both production and distribution. Advertising is the cheapest means of obtaining maximum distribution.

WHO IS HEALTHIER — YOU OR YOUR DOG?

Dogs fed on standard dog food prepared with a careful eye on 43 nutrients the dog needs, are better fed than most children! This statement, made by a recognized nutritionist, strikes an alarming note in this nation which considers itself to be well nourished.

Hidden Hunger

Every so often we should take a good long look at the food eaten by our family. There may not be anyone suffering from hunger pangs but what about hidden hunger? Hidden hunger doesn't produce an empty feeling inside but it does show itself in other ways — lack of energy, excess fatigue, skin problems, lifeless hair, a depressed and unhappy outlook on life and poor muscle tone. Hidden hunger is the hunger of the body for the necessary nutrients it requires.

Check Intake

Post a copy of Canada's Food Guide on the inside of a cupboard door and check each day's food intake with the guide.

Half of the daily protein intake should be from meat, milk, cheese, eggs and poultry. Habitual intake of less than this can lead to deficiencies in protein, iron and B vitamins. These are nutrients which are necessary for growth, tissue repair, healthy blood and a healthy nervous system.

Omission from the diet of yellow and deep green leafy vegetables excludes the main source of vitamin A.

If citrus fruits (oranges or grapefruit), tomatoes and their juices are not eaten regularly, the vitamin C intake may drop below the recommended level. Vitamin C strengthens walls of blood vessels, increases resistance to infection and assists in healing.

Failure to eat whole grain cereals or whole grain or enriched bread can lead to an inadequate intake of thiamine, riboflavin, niacin and iron. Do not forget that in Canada our white flour and bread have been enriched. That is, controlled amounts of the B vitamin and iron have been added to replace these nutrients which were removed in the milling process.

A Balanced Diet or All

Following Canada's Food Guide gives you a balanced diet and

AN ALBERTA JUNIOR CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

It was a warm Sunday, and the water of Racehorse Creek, near Coleman, was temptingly cool. Suddenly, young Robert Comin and his cousin Roxanne Graham stepped into a deep under-water hole.

Robert was rescued but his father drowned trying to reach Roxanne.

15-year-old Lynda Dann, who was fishing upstream, raced to the disaster scene. She dived in and saved Roxanne. Then, while Lewis Blair of Pincher Creek revived the rescued child, Lynda went back and recovered Mr. Comin's body.

This courageous girl is an honors student and Junior Church Camp lifeguard. She has her Bronze Medallion for live-saving proficiency.

We congratulate Lynda, and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Program — sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

Relating to a story on page 7 is the above photo showing the big 36 horse wagon train and driver Slim Moorehouse which took part in the Calgary Stampede in the years around 1925. Watching an outfit of this size turn corners must have been quite an experience for on lookers.

At 74 years of age Slim Moorehouse still has horses at his B.C. home of Gleneden.

BAND NEWS

(By Lloyd Jones)

As was expected, senior band rehearsals for the fall season have been sporadic in attendance during September because of the harvest but it is hoped practices will begin in earnest next week.

The junior band is under way and a new beginners group has been started to eventually replace several second year students who have graduated into senior ranks.

Practices next week will be held Tuesday rather than the normal Monday afternoon and evening and of special note is the fact that through the co-operation of Elementary School principal Don Green the use of the school auditorium has been given for this occasion.

SERVICE BOARD

(By Ken Houlton)

The fall vaccinating season will soon begin and cattle owners are asked to keep this in mind and be prepared to vaccinate their heifer calves when the Veterinarian is in the area. According to Livestock Diseases Act, every heifer calf between the age of 4 to 11 months must be vaccinated against Brucellosis. Heifer calves cannot be exported to Eastern Canada or the U.S.A. unless they are vaccinated. Heifer calves being fed for slaughter must also be vaccinated.

Owners are required to have the heifer calves separated from other cattle and confined so that the Veterinarian may vaccinate the calves as quickly and with the least harm to the calves as possible. The Service Board will again be arranging the routes and time table for the Veterinarian and we are going to endeavor this year to follow these as closely as we can. We ask the co-operation of the farmers to help us run the vaccinating program as quickly and efficiently as possible.

The county sprayer will be available to spray cattle for warbles and lice again this fall. Spraying will start the 8th of October. We would suggest that farmers contact their neighbours and try to arrange a number of herds to be sprayed one day and minimize the sprayer travel.
